Position Paper
2016 has been a year full of challenges and opportunities for the Lifelong Learning Platform, its members and Europe at large. In spite of a challenging European and international context, Brexit, increased radicalisation, fear, populism and horrifying acts of terrorism, we remain convinced of the power education has to reverse worrying trends and rebuild our European identity. In these troublesome times, access and quality to learning opportunities for all can bring optimism back into political discourse and gather citizens with a hopeful vision of the future.

To capture these trends and find solutions together, throughout the year we worked alongside with the European Commission and Parliament, the Slovak and Dutch Council Presidencies, European Economic and Social Committee and many more partners and allies strengthening civil dialogue even more. The new Skills Agenda for Europe was welcomed by the Lifelong Learning Platform’s members who look forward to its developments in the years to come. A special attention was given throughout the year to Inclusive education, namely during the Civil Society Day, cornerstone to both our LLLWeek and Annual Conference.

2016 has been for us, a year of renewal. With our partner the European Youth Forum, we launched the Erasmus+ Coalition, which has been growing with success, gathering over 40 civil society organisations and stakeholders in the first year. We also pursued our change of visual identity and were delighted to present our new website in July. The Platform welcomed three new members strengthening its representation in youth, migration and vocational education sector. Finally, after 10 years of loyal services, our Director Audrey Frith was replaced by Brikena Xhomaqi.

Drawing from our experience, building on our members’ expertise, pooling resources and fighting for what we stand for, we are ready for the challenges that lie ahead. More than ever, education in all its forms must be recognised as the foundation stone we need to create an open and fair society.

We look forward to a more optimistic year for learning and skills for all.

ABOUT

THE LIFELONG LEARNING PLATFORM

The Lifelong Learning Platform is a non-profit umbrella organisation, which brings together 40 European and international networks active in the field of education and training. They represent more than 50 000 educational institutions (schools, universities, adult education and youth centres, etc.) or associations (involving students, teachers and trainers, parents, HRD professionals, etc.) covering all sectors of formal, non-formal and informal learning.

VISION The Platform promotes a holistic vision of lifelong learning, from cradle to grave. By bringing together actors from all sectors and levels of education and training, the LLLPlatform embodies this idea, and contributes to ensure flexibility without losing continuity, between formal, non-formal and informal learning. By encouraging an exchange of knowledge, it aims to build a citizen’s voice on education and training issues but also to propose concrete solutions to make lifelong learning a reality for all.

VALUES The platform fosters a vision of lifelong learning that promotes equity, social cohesion and active citizenship. It believes that the objectives of education and training should not only be described in terms of employability or economic growth but also as a framework for personal development. It is essential to raise awareness on the fact that lifelong learning should include a large range of learning settings and create more complementarity and continuity between formal, non-formal and informal learning.

OBJECTIVES

• Pursue an active dialogue with European institutions
The Platform advocates for a stronger consultation and participation of organised civil society, in order to involve educators and learners in the decision-making process.

• Enable exchanges of best practice, experiences and expertise
The wide range of stakeholders the platform gathers allows it to offer its members a broad range of point of views and knowledge in order to build innovative solutions.

• Disseminate information on key issues of lifelong learning
The Platform provides regular and updated information on policy developments that impact education and training, as well as on topics of common interest in Europe. It helps its members in their advocacy actions and in delivering common messages.

• Promote a more democratic, civic and social Europe
This means raising awareness of lifelong learning, ensuring a broad transmission of knowledge, developing individuals’ competences and teaching the skills that will allow one to enter the labour market, all factors that will help us build an open society thanks to citizens’ empowerment.
On 8-9 December 2016, the LLLPlatform within the ReSet network organised the “In 2017, Skills will be key!” Project Development Workshop.

Following the very positive 2015 experience, the LLLPlatform, Earlall, the Representation of the State of Baden-Württemberg to the EU, Île-de-France Europe, the Liaison agency Flanders-Europe (vleva), and the West-Finland European Office decided to reiterate their partnership in 2016. The second edition of the workshop, reflecting the EU Educational Agenda, was again a unique opportunity for project leaders and partners to meet and exchange views on their project ideas, with roundtables and networking opportunities.

The workshop aimed to support organisations find partners and set up project proposals to answer the upcoming call for Erasmus+ KA2 Strategic Partnerships. The PDW Task Force received and selected 9 main project ideas, for which a partner selection was made during the Fall. They were then invited to participate in a partner meeting and informative day in Brussels with experts (EACEA, EPOS).

WHAT WE DO
CAPACITY BUILDING & PEER LEARNING

POLICY MONITORING TO SUPPORT MEMBERS’ ADVOCACY

One of the Platform’s most appreciated services (cf. Membership Survey, 2015) is to provide them with updated information on EU policy developments in the field of education and training. This compiled information helps them take active part in EU and national level debates thanks to timely and relevant data. On top of the bi-monthly Newsletter, LLLP Members receive a monthly Advocacy Newsflash.

WEBINARS TIPS FOR SUCCESSFUL ERASMUS+ PROJECTS

The webinar organised by the LLLPlatform aims to help members and other civil society organisations applying for Erasmus+ grants understand the programme, get informed about the call for proposals and funding opportunities, and last but not least, learn the tips and tricks for successful project applications. After explaining the new Erasmus+ new structure, it provides support on how to identify the right call, how to assemble a solid partnership, how to define key performance indicators, or how to organise dissemination and exploitation. It also gives guidelines for time and human resource management, as well as financial planning.

NEW WEBSITE INFOPOINT FOR EDUCATION & TRAINING

The LLLPlatform website, a reference in education and training at European level contains a full lexicon of lifelong learning keywords, a wide lists of useful links, a database of good practices and founding texts also influenced by the work of international organisations.

ANSWERING CONTEMPORARY CHALLENGES

ANNUAL CONFERENCE
IMAGINING THE LEARNING COMMUNITY OF TOMORROW

The learning community of tomorrow, what will it look like? The speed at which society has evolved in the last decades makes it difficult to conceive what might be happening in 10 years, let alone 20 or 50. But this is not enough to stop us from hoping for a better future. On the contrary, it seems the perfect time to design the society we dream of, and what role education will play in realising it!

The LLLPlatform held its Annual Conference 2016 in Bratislava, on 31 May and 1 June. Gathering some 100 experts and practitioners in education, the conference was the opportunity to share practices from all over Europe to learn from each other and build creative solutions. Followed by a Project Development workshop, it supported participants finding partners for projects aimed at meeting Europe’s most pressing challenges.

The learning community cannot be imagined solely on the basis of what goes on in the classroom. Indeed, if the traditional space for learning is the classroom, this learning also takes place at home, outside school when taking part in activities such as sports, theatre, music... and most of all, learning takes place throughout life, long after we leave schools and all the way up to retirement. Learning is also highly dependent on the environment it develops in, meaning the built but also natural environment.

The outcomes of each workshop were handed over to a group of architects who interpreted them on a maquette, presented to the audience in the final plenary. This novel way of looking at policy as integrated within a real environment, spurred the final discussions.

GENERAL ASSEMBLY 2016
31 MAY - BRATISLAVA (SK)

The Platform held its 2016 GA in Bratislava, Slovakia, at the Institut Français of Slovakia, partner in the LLLP Annual Conference.
The New Skills Agenda for Europe will certainly have been one of the hot topics in Education and Training in 2016, and the LLLPlatform was active on this major policy document to advocate the interests of its members and partner educational stakeholders.

Position Paper EU Skills Agenda: Political will, synergies and impact!

“The LLLPlatform calls for a strong European Skills Agenda coming up with national and regional action plans and the active involvement of all relevant stakeholders. It should place a right emphasis on making education relevant to the needs of our societies by increasing synergies between employment, social and educational policies. This means overcoming resistance in public administrations in order to break down silos between actors, policies and instruments and to engage stakeholders.”

Objective & Priorities

InnoVal Project (Innovative Assessment Methods for Validation) aims to address the urgent need to offer valid & reliable assessment methods that allow all learners to have a chance at validation with a special focus on disadvantaged groups such as migrants, long-term unemployed, and those who have had an adverse experience with formal education including with school-based assessments.

Project Phases

The first stage of InnoVal will review the state of play regarding the use of non-traditional assessment methods across Europe, while focusing on the needs of the specific target groups. The research phase will lead to the collection of 60 case studies which will set the basis for the development and piloting of a Training Programme on the implementation of innovative assessment methods, organised around Open Educational Materials and targeted at validation practitioners.

Project Partners

DAFNI KEK (Greece); EIESP (France); ANESPO (Portugal); UCLL (Belgium); EUCEN (Belgium); Bertelsmann Stiftung (Germany)

Information

The InnoVal Project is an Erasmus+ KA2 “Strategic Partnerships for vocational education and training” which will run for 2 years (Oct 2016 – Sept 2018).

INTEGRATING REFUGEES AND MIGRANTS THROUGH EDUCATION: BUILDING BRIDGES IN DIVIDED SOCIETIES

European societies are, and will continue to become, increasingly diverse. Throughout the last decades many people who experienced hardship in various spheres of their lives in their home countries came to Europe and it is likely that many will keep on coming. Not thinking of a holistic inclusion strategy that gives priority to the socio-economic and political integration of refugees and migrants in the fabric of the host countries is nothing but burying one’s head in the sand. A comprehensive solution to the crisis is two-fold, comprising of the necessity for urgent, organised reception and assistance to traumatised people fleeing war-torn zones and the need for a long-term solution to increasing inequalities, segregation and social exclusion, which sadly count as downfalls in the blooming diversity of our societies.

“Education is the cornerstone of an inclusive society. This isn’t rhetoric; it’s a fact”
MEP Teresa Cachia

The Position Paper was presented at the LLLWeek2016 Debate “Refugee and Migrant Challenge: Turning Commitment to Inclusive Education into Reality,” held on 11 October and chaired by MEP Teresa Comodini Cachia. This debate invited participants to discuss the implementation of integration policies adopted at EU level and how to avoid the traps of national protectionism and ensure implementation of policies commonly agreed at EU level.

The LLL-HUB aimed to create a feeling of shared responsibility on EU lifelong learning strategies through a multilateral network and ownership among relevant stakeholders (Europe 2020 headline targets, ET2020, European Semester Country-Specific Recommendations...). This was achieved by fostering national and transnational public spaces for debates and mutual policy learning, involving the grassroots level in a genuine reflection with decision-makers on the design and implementation of coherent and comprehensive lifelong learning strategies.

OBJECTIVES
- Foster a shared meaning of lifelong learning
- Enable a cross-sectorial, multi-stakeholders cooperation
- Structure the first transnational policy learning based on a genuine research and dialogue at regional/national level on EU LLL strategies

METHODOLOGY

1. LLL-Labs
2. LLL-Forums
3. LLL-Agora

The Agora took place on 7-8 March 2016 in Mechelen, Belgium as final pooling of expertise to make a comparative analysis of critical factors, identify common challenges and elaborate recommendations to improve LLL strategies at all levels.

PROJECT INFO

The Project Partners were: APG (PT); Camara (ES); CVO Antwerpen (BE); ITPIO (BG); Leido Academy (NL); Mardin Provincial Directorate Of Social Studies and Projects (Turkey); Lifelong Learning Platform (coordinator); FREREF (FR); RIE (BG); WUP (PL).

The project, funded under the EU Lifelong Learning Programme, started on 1 December 2013 and ended on 31 May 2016. All information and outcomes are available in www.lll-hub.eu.
Initiated by the Lifelong Learning Platform and EAEA together with a number of MEPs, the Interest Group on Lifelong Learning brings together civil society representatives and MEPs to discuss key issues connected to lifelong learning with strong emphasis on adult education.

We stand for a comprehensive and trans-sectorial lifelong learning approach, and want to stress that education is not only about employment, but is linked to personal development, social inclusion, active citizenship, and much more. The interest group works as a “watchdog” to the European Union.

With “Inclusive education for inclusive societies” for focus, the group aims to fight inequalities and discrimination in education in order to reach the Europe and Education and Training 2020 headline targets and contribute to the EU growth strategy.

In light of the needs and possibilities in learning participation, the LLLPlatform developed a series of policy recommendations in order to improve the quality, access and outreach of learning. The different elements developed are a shared responsibility between decision-makers, practitioners and families. The Lifelong Learning Platform is calling for a genuine and deep change of our learning culture in order to build a more cohesive and democratic learning society.

In the context of the needs and possibilities in learning participation, the LLLPlatform developed a series of policy recommendations in order to improve the quality, access and outreach of learning. WHAT WE DO
CREATING INCLUSIVE LEARNING ENVIRONMENTS

A clear and urgent challenge for our educational systems is to better adapt to the needs of modern societies. Today’s learners expect “complimentary chains” between formal, nonformal and informal learning, which involves better-designed innovative and collaborative learning methodologies and assessment procedures, going beyond the traditional “onesize-fits-all” approach. These can contribute to improving learning participation, well-being and educational attainment. Moreover, by improving resilience and outcomes, they have the potential to re-engage individuals who are at risk of failure and dropout, and therefore contribute to the objectives of the “ET2020” agenda of European cooperation in the field of education and training. That is how more inclusive and participatory approaches in the design of learning environments can contribute to modernising the way we teach and learn in all education subsystems across Europe.

LEARNING PARTICIPATION
IMPROVING QUALITY, ACCESS AND OUTREACH

In light of the needs and possibilities in learning participation, the LLLPlatform developed a series of policy recommendations in order to improve the quality, access and outreach of learning. The different elements developed are a shared responsibility between decision-makers, practitioners and families. The Lifelong Learning Platform is calling for a genuine and deep change of our learning culture in order to build a more cohesive and democratic learning society.

LEARNING FOR WELL-BEING

The Learning for Well-Being working group met on 16 February 2016. With special speakers representing OECD, participants discussed the concept of well-being and its inclusion in educational data.
The Lifelong Learning Platform launched the 2016 Erasmus+ Survey on 7 July (until 15 September) in three EU languages (English, German and French). The 2016 survey received the record number of 734 responses. This annual survey aims to provide decisionmakers with an evaluation from the direct beneficiaries, on what works well, what could be improved and what is lacking in the programme. This year in particular, it aimed to evaluate how the third round of applications for the Erasmus+ programme was experienced by beneficiaries.

The results show how the various beneficiaries of the Programme value the Erasmus+ as a great opportunity to work with their peers across Europe and to implement innovative projects in the field of education, training and youth. They were presented at the LLLWeek2016 Opening Debate “Reforming Erasmus+: Budgetary Constraints, Civil Society Needs and Political Will,” on 10 October and chaired by MEP Milan Zver.

The Erasmus+ Civil Society Coalition is a group of more than 40 European Civil Society Networks active in the field of education, training, youth and sport. They represent key stakeholders in Europe active in the Erasmus+ Programme. This civil society alliance is led by the Lifelong Learning Platform and the European Youth Forum. The members of the Coalition aim to create ownership on EU policies and to voice the concerns and needs of millions of citizens to the EU. They play a crucial role as intermediaries and multipliers in informing and involving education, training and youth actors in EU cooperation and policy-making and in disseminating cooperation outputs. They can reach a critical mass and ensure a long-term impact.

The objectives of the project were to create common guidelines for recognition of NFIL acquired in a volunteering context, supporting youth organisation in providing internal validation systems which can be recognised externally. The project also wanted to support longterm volunteers in raising their awareness of competences acquired.

Another objective is to raise the awareness of companies on the benefits and impact of long term volunteering for transversal competence development.

The GR-EAT Project aimed to propose a comprehensive tool for the implementation of recognition systems and contribute to the overall advocacy process toward the recognition of non-formal and informal learning (NFIL) taking place within youth organisations.

The LLLPlatform’s most important involvement consisted in leading a survey on the Recognition of volunteers’ competences by employers. Led from February to April 2015, it gathered 131 responses destined to evaluate the recognition of non-formal and informal learning prior, for and during employment.
LIFELONG LEARNING WEEK 2016

The 6th edition of the Lifelong Learning Week (#LLLWeek16) was held from 10 to 13 October in Brussels, gathering circa 200 policy-makers and educational stakeholders representing civil society organisations, academics and decision-makers, highlighting the key role lifelong learning plays in facing major societal challenges nowadays. The LLLWeek has over time become a milestone in the European education agenda, thanks to the support of civil society actors and Members of the European Parliament.

This year, we turned the spotlight on what brings them together and what makes education one of the most powerful tools we possess to build the inclusive societies that are the basis for a democratic Europe. The LLLWeek2016 was thus organised around three main strands: Learning to live together, 21st Century Skills and Flexible learning pathways.

For the first time, the LLLWeek was organised in partnership with the European Youth Forum, merging with the former Youth Education Week, to show our commitment to joining forces with young people and youth organisations. The 2016 LLLWeek was supported by the Youth Intergroup and the Lifelong Learning Interest Group.

Collaboration between Civil Society Organisations such as the Lifelong Learning Platform and the European Youth Forum and the European Parliament is crucial in order to boost innovation in policy-making and vitality of the public debate in the education field. We must stand for a comprehensive acknowledgement and a strong improvement of all sectors of formal, non-formal and informal learning.”

WHAT WE DO
PROMOTING AND PARTICIPATING IN CIVIL DIALOGUE

EDUCATION, TRAINING AND YOUTH FORUM 2016 AND CIVIL SOCIETY DAY

Co-organised by DG EAC and the LLLPlatform, the Civil Society Day (preceding the Forum) focused on “Inclusive education,” a concept that reveals the transformative effect of education on society as a whole. However, this effect requires mainstreaming the concept through all areas of education, involving the many educational actors – representing formal, non-formal and informal sectors – in a dialogue with the institutions to develop effective educational policies. Participants reflected on the meaning of inclusiveness in education through the prism of learning objectives, content and methods; learning environments and their link with the non-formal sector; the role of educators and school leaders; and finally, seeking the optimal governance system to ensure a comprehensive approach. The consultation delivered key messages with concrete suggestions.

The event was preceded by the EU2020 Working Group, to prepare for the consultation and discuss the agenda for inclusive education.

PARTICIPATING IN EU COMMISSION EXPERT GROUPS

The LLLPlatform participates in several expert groups organised by EU institutions in order to exchange views and consult key stakeholders on the implementation of EU policies in education and training. The Platform is present in:
