Digital innovation for students' success in higher education

In a context where digitalisation of education has had a sudden acceleration, this event will assess what tools are best-placed to ensure the best of the learning processes.

The event aims to tackle the following questions:

- What tools and mindsets do we need to adventure to this uncharted digital territory?
- What are the lessons learned from the coronavirus that are here to stay?
- How can national or trans-national experiments inform EU policy making?
