Launch event and Lifelong Learning Civil Society Forum
“The changing nature of evaluation in education and its impact on learners’ wellbeing”

Concept

In the opening event of the LLLWeek 2021, the Lifelong Learning Platform wishes to address the links between assessment methods and learners’ and educators’ wellbeing. The concept of learners’ wellbeing begins with the idea that when the learner feels happy and secure in the learning environment – the likelihood of actualising their potentials is heightened. Wellbeing positively influences both the learning process and learning outcome. Simply put, learning tends to occur more fluidly in the context of positive emotions; a condition that subsequently improves achievement and attainment.

This theme accompanied LLLP through the year that is now closing, and the contribution of civil society to the EU Agenda on education and training has proven valuable. What are the links between assessment methods and learners’ wellbeing? What more can education institutions do? What should the EU recommend? Come and learn with us at this flagship event!
